SEATING /Chairs & Benches

Diego Fortunato

2004

Summary

SIT is a combination of BANCO and CUBO, based on the idea of street furniture with a soft texture and rounded forms; comfortable but unidentifiable with any historic period. Its sculptural design, resembling a rock with a rotund geometry, helps Sit to integrate naturally into any setting. It does not require any anchorage, simply resting on the ground with its own weight. The collection includes two sizes of the rock-benches, to which two sizes of the rock-backrests can be added. In addition to its visual attractiveness, in itself an invitation to sit and rest, the main feature focuses on its ergonomic design, making this product a comfortable urban seat.
